

I think I am the right girl for this job, and I'm here today to tell you why. Firstly, when people are fighting and bullying, I can sort it out. If there are not enough teachers on the playground, I will try to help everyone to solve their problems. People can also play and have fun with me. Secondly, I want to give people more time for maths lessons, so we don't need to rush. I can help people with their work as well. Finally, I will try to get more school dinner for people who have been good. I think I should be the school councillor, not because I want to do it, but because I can help other people. Would anyone else be better than me?

Maddison O'Reilly, Class 6

I would like to explain why you should vote for me. You should vote for me because I'm generous and willing to help people if they are upset. I will be the best person for this job because I will make playtime longer. Furthermore, I will let people write straight into their books with no paper! I will also help people with their work if they are stuck and need help. Next, I would like to have more music lessons, and have more toys and games to play with at playtimes and lunchtimes. Finally, I will talk to our teachers and try to get more school trips.
